Coronado pre-filters

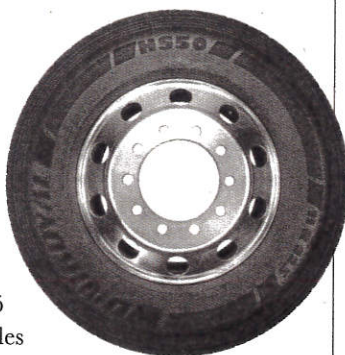

Freedom Air Filters now offers a pre-filter pair for Freightliner Coronado trucks model-year 2010-present. The pre-filters are designed to fit over the factory chrome intake grilles to help protect the engine and extend air filter life by keeping out larger particles such as grain chaff, rubber, dirt and sand. They also are treated with a hydrophobic water repellent process that helps keep out rain, ice and snow without sacrificing airflow or horsepower, even in harsh conditions such as heavy moisture.

Integrated side-rail system

East's integrated extruded aluminum side-rail system accommodates a Double-L winch with flat-hook straps for cargo securement. Each tiedown is movable so that it can be positioned where needed to secure the cargo. Once the flat

Dashcam with built-in GPS

Cobra's Drive HD CDR 875 G dashcam has a built-in GPS designed to allow drivers to receive updates from other drivers about road conditions. The road-facing camera is full 1080P high-definition and provides a 160-degree viewing angle. It features a G-Sensor designed to trigger the unit to automatically and permanently protect clips if an impact is detected. The dashcam also offers a "parking mode" motion sensor that is enabled when the truck is parked; the added security feature captures movement in the camera's viewing eye.

hook is engaged, the rail's design holds the hook in place while tension is added to the strap. The side rail maintains all of the standard features of East's Securetight cargo control system, an adjustable chain tiedown and winch strap capture system where movable tiedowns across the top of the side rail provide positive locking every 8 inches. go inside the rail, not over the top, to help protect the strap from chafing against the winch hook and from shearing or cutting should the trailer be involved in a mishap.
